

AMSTERDAM

FIND - SHOPS / MARKETS

CASA DEL GUSTO

"A touch of Italy in Amsterdam. They drive back and forth to Italy every week to get great salamis, prosciutto and homemade pastas."

- Chef Rogier van Dam and sommelier Elise Moeskops (Restaurant Lastage)

Leidseplein / Italian Market
Kerkstraat 121, 1017 GE Amsterdam
T: +31/(0)20.330.83.30

LA MARCHE AT LINDENHOFF

"On Thursday, Fridays and Saturdays, one of the best restaurant suppliers of quality meat opens up the farm and holds a real farmers market. Neighbors that produce fruits and vegetables join them, as well as a great traditional baker, dairy producer and some other great things. Only a half an hour drive outside of Amsterdam, you immediately get a feel of what the Dutch countryside has to offer."

EAT - RESTAURANTS

BORDEWIJK

"It's definitely the best place to go if you like classical French preparations of brains, kidneys and just robust food."

- Chef Rogier van Dam and sommelier Elise Moeskops (Restaurant Lastage)

Jordaan / French
Noordermarkt 7, 1015 MV Amsterdam

LA RIVE

"With the 'King of Subtle Flavors' Roger Rassin in the kitchen and with supreme hostmanship from Ronald Opten, we had a meal there that is high on our list of best meals ever."

- Chef Rogier van Dam and sommelier Elise Moeskops (Restaurant Lastage)

EAT - RESTAURANTS

LE HOLLANDAIS

"Chef Adriaan Van Raab van Canstein makes clean and honest food, the dream wedding between Dutch produce and French technique. Go for the sausage of the week and have a bottle of wine recommended."

- Chef Rogier van Dam and sommelier Elise Moeskops (Restaurant Lastage)

Amsterdam / French

LE RESTAURANT

"A former two-starred Michelin chef opened up what is barely more than a living room, after having left the restaurant scene for a couple of years. A set menu, extremely high quality for a reasonable price, Le Restaurant shows that you can do it your own way, without concessions."

- Chef Rogier van Dam and sommelier Elise Moeskops (Restaurant Lastage)

RESTAURANT LASTAGE

"Rogier's style of cooking is quite robust in flavors. The framing is elegant, so not necessarily a lot of butter and cream, but packed with freshness, sturdy flavors and generally just high in taste."

- Sommelier Elise Moeskops (Restaurant Lastage)

EAT - RESTAURANTS

SLAGERIJ 'T VET

"For lunch. It's not really a restaurant, but try the Broodje Zeedijk. Best sandwich in town."

- Chef Rogier van Dam and sommelier Elise Moeskops (Restaurant Lastage)

Amsterdam / Butcher / Sandwiches
Zeedijk 99, 1012 Amsterdam

DRINKS

CAFE ZILT

"One of our favorite bars in Amsterdam. At the beginning of the Red Light District, it is rare to find a bar frequented with mainly Dutch. The bartender/owner, Michael, has a true feel for making everybody feel welcome, combine that with a better than average selection of beers, wines and whiskeys and it is our pivotal point on a night out and our main hang-out after having closed the restaurant."

NJOY

"Cocktail bar Njoy is close to the Leidseplein, an area we tend to shy away from, too busy, too touristy and too loud. Njoy maintains a strict door policy, but once you're in you are treated to cocktails made with the freshest fruit available, a true love for the craft of cocktail making resonates through every conversation you have with a bartender (ask for Lillyn, she's great). And if you're done with cocktails, they also serve a more than decent glass of wine and nice snacks to go with them."
