MONTFORD FARMERS MARKET

"This is new to the Montford neighborhood.

There is as much offered here as you would find in the Union Square Market in New York. To be in a small town and see that, is pretty cool."

- Chef Jacob Sessoms (Table, Asheville)

Montford

Farmers Market

36 Montford Avenue, Asheville, NC 28801

Open: April - November

EAT | RESTAURANTS

CUCINA 24

"I always go to Cucina 24 for a decent dinner. It's fairly straightforward Northern Italian food."

- Chef Jacob Sessoms (Table, Asheville)

"I have a lot of respect for chef Bill Klein. The ownership has put his creativity on lockdown, but he's very good and his training is classical French."

- Chef Jacob Sessoms (Table, Asheville)

Biltmore Village

TASTEE DINER

"It's a straight up meat and three. It's fun. Nothing but old fogies here."

- Chef Jacob Sessoms (Table, Asheville)

West Asheville

Diner / American

575 Haywood Road, Asheville, NC 28806

T: 828.252.9644

TAQUERIA GONZALEZ

"Me and all my cooks eat here. It is truly an authentic taqueria, with very traditional Saturday and Sunday entree and soups. It's completely undiscovered, which is awesome. As a chef, our favorite thing is truly authentic food, not always going out to fine dining."

- Chef Jacob Sessoms (Table, Asheville)

West Asheville

Mexican

747 Haywood Road, Asheville, NC 28806

T: 828.232.6780

DRINK | BARS

ASHEVILLE SAZERAC

"We always end up drinking here. It's very well designed and always empty. The beverages are good and it's really nice on Saturday night when we get out of work at midnight to go to a bar that is not filled with frat boys. It's hard to plug it to anyone because there only like 8 people in there."

- Chef Jacob Sessoms (Table, Asheville)

THE PROSPECT

"Totally the shit! New, but legit! Shitty street, cheap beer, no fancy cocktails. There are pretentious 'dive bars' and some crazy, old scary redneck bars, but The Prospect is for real."

- Chef Jacob Sessoms (Table, Asheville)
